Slavery in the Territories---The Practice Heretofore.

A great many persons discourse very flippantly about the points which separate the various parties now contending for the supremacy in the United States. How many men have ever read the compromise measures of 1850 and 1854? How many have ever read the Kansas-Nebraska bill? And, how many have ever read the Dred Scott decision, or know what was decided? Many will discourse very feelingly about the right of the people of a Territory. How few know, that among the States which have been admitted into the Union, few, very few, ever had a Territorial Legislature!

Vermont and Kentucky, the first to be admitted after the formation of the Federal Constitution, were taken from other States, and came in full grown. So did Tennessee. So did Mississippi, Alabama, and Maine---they had no Territorial Legislatures. When we purchased Louisiana, President Jefferson sent a Governor, with a Secretary, Judges, Register of the Land Office, and Surveyor of the public lands. Reappointed twelve freeholders, chosen for their high qualifications, to act as counsel to the Governor.---It had no Territorial Legislature. Missouri was governed by a Governor and counsel until it came in as a State. Mr. Jefferson and his Cabinet took the ground that we had purchased the country; that its population was alien to us, and unfit to exercise in the principles of our Government---he put it in a state of pupilage, and so it remained until it became a State.---When, at later date, we purchased Florida, the same thing was done, nor did it enter the Union for many years.

With the States which were formed out of the large domain surrendered by Virginia and lying Northwest of the Ohio river, the Territorial Legislatures were merely nominal things---all were governed in fact by the Federal Government through the Governors placed over them.

Texas, it is well known, was annexed and came in as a full grown State. After the Mexican war the question arose about the admission of that ground to the acquired Territory; and then came up the famous bill to which was attached the celebrated Wilmot Proviso. This, it was found, would produce trouble, and hence the Compromise measures of 1850, which, it was hoped, would quiet all future slavery agitation. They failed to do so. The South was willing to continue the line known as the Missouri Compromise line, it being the same parallel as separates Virginia and North Carolina, Kentucky from Tennessee. The North, knowing they had the power of numbers, would not agree to it; and hence the measures of 1854, wholly repealing the said Compromise.

Previously, however, California had been admitted as a State, against all rule, irregularly, and by the votes of a set of adventurers, not one half of whom could be found in the State the succeeding year.---President TAYLOR and his cabinet had not the firmness to meet the storm which might result from a discussion of their admission, and fearing, if not admitted, they might fly off and assert a separate independence, sneakingly through emissaries made the people of California believe that if they applied for admission with slavery in their constitution they would be rejected; and hence the vote excluding slavery, for the people there wanted the United States to assume and pay their large indebtedness.

In the bitter contest which has been going on for several years in Kansas, no doubt all parties going there were more or less to blame; but the great sin will rest on the New England States, and the Aid Societies. Mr. DOUGLAS, for his own purposes, has added much to the bitterness of feeling, by his damnable doctrine of Squatter Sovereignty---or in other words, the doctrine that a set of men not entitled to a vote can settle in a Territory, the common property of the Union, and by unfriendly legislation ruin the property of their neighbors. In this he has been no doubt, influenced by his hatred of the present administration, and his innate demagogueary. If the people of the slave States do not aim to put down these damnable doctrines at once and forever, then they have less courage and manhood than they have had credit for.

The Entering Wedge.

Gov. WISE, we believe it was, who denounced Squatter Sovereignty as a "short cut to all the ends of Abolitionism." Many thought the remark harsh and unwarranted by the facts; but we greatly fear the sagacity of the distinguished Virginian will be shown by the sequel. Nor is Gov. WISE the only one of our statesmen who saw the end in the beginning; and not only were the fears of Southern men aroused, but the hopes of the demagogues in the North, whose schemings and plottings have well nigh succeeded in overthrowing the Governme t, were excited. We remember that JAMES WATSON WEBB, one of the oldest and ablest of the Black Republican leaders, in pressing the claims of Mr. SEWARD for the Presidential nomination of his party, indicated that Mr. DOUGLAS would be his second choice, and said, while he could not approve the principles advocated by the Squatter Chieftain, yet in practice they would accomplish all desired by the most ultra Abolitionist. And ELI THAYER, a statesman, a philosopher, and a fanatic, the originator of the Kansas Emigrant Aid Society, has openly taken ground, in his seat in the House of Representatives, in favor of Squatter Sovereignty. So little were the Black Republicans opposed to Mr. DOUGLAS' opinions on the subject of slavery in the Territories, that GREELEY, WILSON, BURLINGAME, and many of their leaders in the Northern States, in 1858, were not only willing, but anxious, that their party friends in Illinois should return him to the United States Senate.

And, now, that Mr. DOUGLAS is a candidate for President, with active friends throughout the North, and a few supporters even in the slave States, the Black Republicans are confident the canvass in his behalf will prove an entering wedge to the more fanatical and impracticable opinions entertained by GIDDINGS, LINCOLN, SEWARD, etc. They boast, loudly and hopefully, that his canvass "IS DESTINED TO EXERT AN INFLUENCE UPON SLAVERY WHICH WILL NOT CEASE TO OPERATE TILL THE SYSTEM EXPIRES."

The following paragraphs are from a leading editorial in the New York Tribune, the great oracle of Black Republicanism; and we beg the people of the South, whose interests, and rights, and property, and honor are at stake, unaffianced by their wishes, or hopes, or fears, to reflect upon what the anti-slavery philosopher says of the canvass:

Though Mr. Douglas is not going to be supported as generally in the Southern States as we sometime supposed, his canvass below the Missouri is nevertheless destined to exert an influence upon slavery which will not cease to operate till the system expires. Heretofore, of late years, the advocates of the political unrighteousness of slavery, and the ominous presence of the right to hold slaves on every rood of land or sea covered by the American flag, have, with here and there an honorable exception, had every thing pretty much their own way in the South, and especially in the Democratic party.

* * * * * * *

These barbarous dogmas have shocked the common sense and the conscience of all that part of Christendom dwelling outside of the Southern States, and not included in the pale of the Democratic party. But they are destined to receive a ruder and more effective blow during the pending Presidential contest. FAR AS THE POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY THE BIRDS OF MR. DOUGLAS FALL SHORT OF SOUND LAW, SOLID SENSE, AND THE EXIGENCIES OF THE TIMES, THEY NEVERTHELESS DO VIOLENTLY CONFLICT WITH THESE MEDIÆVAL IDEAS OF THE CALHOUN SCHOOL OF POLITICIANS. Feeble though the fight may be on the part of the Southern supporters of Douglas, THEY WILL BE COMPELLED TO OPPOSE THE BARBAROUS DOCTRINES OF THIS SCHOOL. THEY WILL BE DRIVEN TO OCCUPY AND FORTIFY SOME PORTION OF THE GROUND WHERE THE FATHERS OF THE REPUBLIC STOOD. They must deny the inherent and original right of every man to carry negro slaves everywhere, and hold them as such, in spite of the enactments of local Legislatures, and the decrees of local courts. ESPECIALLY must they assail that, though long thanketh upon the duty of Congress as a protection to the Territories, neither the Executive or Legislative branch of the Federal Government has the right to protect slaveholding within the national domain. In line, they must adhere to the doctrine of "Non-intervention" at all hazards, or lose their ascendency character in the South, and with the cause of their leader in the Senate.

* * * * * * *

Resolved, That Congress has, by the Constitution, power to abolish slavery and the slave trade in the District of Columbia, and that there is nothing to take from or circumscribe the full exercise of this power by Congress and Maryland or otherwise, enacting any legislation restrictive on its exercise.

Resolved, That Congress ought to make measures to effect the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia.

Resolved, That the rights of humanity, the claims of justice, and the common good all so demand its suppression, by Congress of the slave trade carried on in and through the District of Columbia

Resolved, That Congress has, by the Constitution, power to abolish the traffic of slaves between the different States of the Union.

Resolved, That the existence of this power is demanded by the principles of humanity and justice.

For the present, this will do. Hereafter, when these resolutions are thoroughly digested, we will have something more to say.

☞ The man may be known by his friends. Mr. DOUGLAS must be judged by his supporters. Indeed, his advocates first instituted that test, and can't complain if it be applied to them.

In another paragraph, from the Nashville Union and American, brief mention is made of some of these who are fighting in the ranks of the Little Giant.

At Memphis, on Saturday night, the Douglasites had a big ratification meeting. Over this a gentleman presided of whom we know nothing and shall say nothing. The speakers were first, W. H. CARROLL, who has recently been turned out of the Postoffice, in Memphis, by Mr. BUCHANAN; second, Mr. J. P. PRYOR, who, not long since, was the Know Nothing editor of the Memphis Eagle and Enquirer, and who, four years ago, denounced squatter Sovereignty as the most damnable doctrine of the age, and stigmatized DOUGLAS as a traitor to the South and an Abolitionist for supporting it; third, E. M. YERGER, late an Opposition candidate for Congress in that district; fourth, a man whose name is not given in the papers, but who abused the Democratic Governor of the State like a pick pocket; and, fifth, A. H. DOUGLAS, late Know Nothing candidate for State Senator---and that is all! Not one old-fashioned Democrat among them. The most of them were political adventurers. And those who have grown gray in the cause to which they are yet attached are asked to follow such men for DOUGLAS; and if DOUGLAS can't be elected, with FORSYTHE & CO., to go---not for BRECKINRIDGE and LANE, even as a second choice---but for BELL and EVERETT!

☞ The Cleveland (O.) National Democrat charges that there is about to be a coalition, in the South, between the friends of DOUGLAS and LINCOLN, to defeat BRECKINRIDGE. In the South, the fusion between the Douglasites and the Union party men is already complete.

☞ The National Democracy of Ohio, have called a State Convention, to meet at Columbus, on the 7th day of August next. The Convention is called by the Central Committee appointed at the meeting at the Capitol, referred to in our columns a few days since.

MARRIED,

At Peach Grove, Ind., June 14th, FRANK M. BUMLEY, to Miss FANNIE MCCORMICK, of Peach Grove.

DIED,

On the 12th inst., Mrs. SUSAN E., wife of Wm. Hughes, in the 37th year of her age.

The friends of the family are invited to attend her funeral at her late residence, corner of Broadway and Brook, this (Friday) evening, 13th inst. at 4 o'clock P. M., without further notice.

☞ After an experience of one year in putting up Vulcanite Lace, Misses. FITZ & Fulton are more fully prepared to indorse its claims of superiority to everything else as a base for Artificial Teeth. When they introduced it in Louisville they advertised it as follows: That it was one half lighter than metal, more cleanly, and that they were more certain of getting a perfect fit of the mouth. They now go further, and say that it is much stronger than sets on metal, and has proved to be in no case needed, while the low price brings it within the reach of all. Believing that in these respects they have done work at small profits will be appreciated, they have determined on a reduction of their prices. To substantiate the above they pledge themselves to replace with gold, without extra charge, any set on Vulcanite that fails in any one particular as set forth above. They still put up the old work for those who desire it.

DAILY COURIER.

YOU KISSED ME.

You kissed me! My head had droop'd low on your breast,
With a feeling of shelter and infinite rest,
While the holy emotion my tongue dared not speak,
Flushed up like a flame from my heart to my cheek;
Your arms held me fast—oh! your arms were so bold—
Heart beat against heart, in their passionate hold.
Your glances seemed drawing my soul through my eyes,
As the sun draws the mist from the sea to the skies.
And your lips clung to mine, till I prayed in my bliss,
They might never unclasp from that haven of rest.

You kissed me! My heart, and my breath, and my will,
In delirious joy, for the moment, stood still:
Life had for me, then, no temptations, no charms,
No vista of pleasure, outside of your arms.
And were I, this instant, an angel, pre-saved
Of the glory and peace that are given to the blest,
I would fling my white robes, unexplainedly down,
And tear from my forehead its beautiful crown,
To resume once more life in the haven of rest.

You kissed me! My soul, in a tol as so divine,
Heard and swooned, like a foolish man, drunken with wine,
And I thought 'twere delicious to die then. If death
Would come while my mouth was yet moist with your breath—
'Twere death-bliss to die. If my heart might grow cold
With your arms wrapt around me, in passionate fold.
And there are the questions I ask, day and night,
Shall my life taste but once such exquisite delight?
Would you care if your breast were my shelter, as then?
And if you were here, would you kiss me again?

[From Mothus.]

A Pocket Companion for Members of Society.

DEDICATED TO THE INDIVIDUAL.

Society owes its existence to the individual.

The individual, by his existence, necessitates society.

The position of the individual towards society is anomalous, while he is creator, he is, at the same time, its slave.

The individual is an atom in society—a drop in the ocean.

Society is divided into two classes—society at large and society at small.

Society at large is what is generally termed "society."

Society at small is each individual who has formed his natural right to membership in society at large.

How does an individual forfeit his natural right to such membership?

Rules, Certain laws, customs, maxims and notions (particularly notions) regulate society—hence every individual must regulate himself by these same laws, customs, maxims, and notions (particularly notions); otherwise he will be automatically "kicked out of" society at large into society in the latter company—which, of course, constitutes society at small.

Society at large never recognizes society at small. There is a great gulf between the two, which no bridge of pity on the one hand, (the [illegible]) or of repentance on the other, (the left), can span.

Out of that society at small is at present largely society at large.

So why do not those expelled from the first [illegible] classes unite from a new opposition party?

Simply because they cannot. Their pride prevents them from owning their disgrace—even to one another. So each one buries himself in his own thoughts, and does what he likes. O, individual members of society at large, see what a forlorn doom awaits you, if you venture to "saw against its grain!" We would warn, we would save you from all this impending crisis, therefore have we compiled these few useful oracles. Read and ponder!

FOR GENTLEMEN.

Heinous Offences Against Society at Large.

1. Having your boots blacked in the public streets.

2. Neglecting to offer a lady your seat in a car or omnibus, even though you be exceedingly tired yourself or feel indisposed.

3. Appearing in church without gloves.

4. Wearing your hair and beard to your own taste, instead of submitting to society's lawgiver—Fashion.

5. Disputing with a lady, or even differing from her in opinion.

6. Failing to take hints concerning presents, invitations to the opera, theater, balls, drives, dining and picnic parties.

7. Unwilling to undergo all and every mortification, pain and difficulty that would arise were you to attempt to gratify that formidable curse, a wife!

8. Endeavoring to be equally polite to everybody. (Discriminate.)

9. Hesitation in pronouncing every lady's dress "the finest you have ever heard."

FOR LADIES.

Very Shocking Things to Do or Say.

1. To see perfection in any female—besides yourself.

2. To dislike gentlemen; particularly young ones.

3. To remember anything said in the sermon, and not to remember how ridiculous Miss Pinbrooke looked "in that horrid plight of a bonnet," parading down the broad aisle.

4. To wish that you never had a beau.

5. To think a gentleman for vacating his seat for you when you enter a crowded car.

6. To admit that you ever cared for a person whose attentions had ceased.

7. To talk common sense with your company.

8. To seem acquainted with common-place household duties.

9. To say that you know what a broom or a duster is.

10. Not to use the most astonishing superlatives in your most trivial conversation.

The Tongue Guard.

"Keep thy tongue from evil and thy lips from speaking guile."—[Psalms, XXXIV, 13.

There are coach guards, and night guards, and watch guards, and fire guards, and other guards; but none of these are of so great importance as the tongue guard; the nature, necessity, utility, and principle of which we desire to illustrate in the following paragraphs.

Seeing that the power of the tongue is so great, and that, therefore, the tongue guard is so necessary, we will proceed to give a few directions how to use it:

1. Do not speak profanely. "Fear an oath," and be careful to abstain from taking the name of God in vain, lightly and carelessly to express surprise, in common conversation, mention not that name but with reverence.

2. Speak not falsely. He who has levity enough to speak falsely to gratify vanity, or to cause mirth, is a fool. He who violates truth, in order to gratify malice or obtain revenge, is a villain. But he who departs from truth in order to evade danger, is a coward. And I wish to caution, not only against downright lying, but also against every species of duplicity, promise breaking, prevarication and dissimulation of every kind.

3. Speak not unkindly, and especially of absent persons, who have not the opportunity of defending themselves. The law says: "Thou shalt not curse the deaf," (Lev. XXX, 14); but remember absent persons are deaf to what you say; therefore, speak not ill of them. "Be very cautious," said a wise observer, "of speaking of or leaving any ill of your neighbors; but be much more cautious of making hasty reports of them to their disadvantage." I have known some people indulge in slander, and then by way of excuse, say they cannot help but speak evil of their neighbors, because "honest freedom makes it his virtue to speak what he thinks, makes it his necessity to think what's good."

4. Do not speak foolishly or unchastely. Foolish, frothy conversation is unbecoming the gravity of a rational being, and especially of a christian.

5. Do not speak too freely in general conversation of common place, gossiping chitchat. Remember that wise proverb, "In the multitude of words there wanteth not sin; but he that refraineth his lips is wise." (Prov. X, 19). Yet we do not by this advise silently but we grieve our fellow creatures or God, and have therefore to repent of it afterwards. This caution is by no means unnecessary, nor is it new. It has been considered of high importance by the wisest and best of men.

"I could wish," says Thomas a Kempis, "that I had oftentimes held my peace, and that I had not been in company."

"Why are we so fond of conversation, when notwithstanding we seldom return to silence without hurting our conscience."

Quesalid, "as often as I have been among men I returned like a man; and this we often find true when we have been long in company."

"It is easier not to speak, at all than not to speak more than is needful."

"It is easier to keep at home than to be sufficiently upon our guard when we are abroad."

"No man safely goes abroad, but he who is willing to stay at home. No man can speak safely but he who is willing to hold his peace."

Hoops IN A NEW SPHERE.—The frequent issues in which ladies have been saved from their characteristic "alacrity in sinking" by the buoyancy of hoops, when it has been their misfortune to fall overboard, have proven an excellent recommendation for those graceful substitutes for native embonpoint. In their capacity of propellers, Hoopers, as we have heard nothing till yesterday. A lady residing in the southwestern part of the city, having occasion to aid a servant in the disposition of a keg, which had been placed on the roof of a shed adjoining the dwelling, and which was some eighteen feet in height, slipped and fell upon the top of the shed, and slipped off. She had performed the same work frequently before, but had met with the same accident. Happily for her, she was fortified with a strong skirt, having in it about fifteen hoops, and as she fell downwards, the air buoyed her up in such an extent that she reached the ground without any hurt, and she avers that although much frightened, when her feet touched the ground she experienced no more of a concussion than if she had jumped from a chair. This appears to us slightly on a culmination of the sage prophesy, by which it is unnecessary to say, that woman, besides being master of everything else, will become at length able to "ride upon the wings of the wind and sit as queen upon the waters."

EXCRUCIATING CON.—Why are the Japanese Ambassadors avaricious? Because they are two swordsed.

SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINE.

The fibres of the body are often soft and relaxed after the frostie cold of Winter is withdrawn and steady warm weather sets in. In the interval of shifting, unsteady, severe, inflammation, and acute discomforts. Because at this season of the year the pores are apt to corrupt from any sudden check of the perspiration, from exposure or the stoppage of any usual evacuation, that at any other period of the year. Davenport's Balm-cod all to nought, cleanses the blood from those pestilential humors which the cold and want of exercise of Winter have locked up in the bowels and solids of the body, and which, if not timely expelled, produce cancer, tumor, costiveness, consumption, and an early death.

When, therefore, you feel chilliness, lassitude, dizziness, pains of the head, lose no time, but at once swallow four, six, or eight pills.

Dear Sir: The three watches of your manufacture which I purchased to be used on my plantation, have proved to be the most correct time-keepers I have ever known. I have my head servant, my boat carpenter, and my head gardener, each one of them, and since they have been in their respective possessions, every thing on the plantation has moved like clock work in consequence of their having been kept and regularly with which they have performed. Yours truly, LEWIS MORRIS.

I have noted with extreme care the running of the watch I bought of you, now nearly a year since, and so accurate and equable has been its performances that I have thought it would interest you, and all others in whose behalf you may see fit to use the information, to state finally and truthfully that after it had been regulating in my possession for three months,

Now it does not lose the average monthly variations far not exceeding 2 seconds. GEMEA WARE.

THE RIVER was steadily rising yesterday, though rather slowly, with five feet five inches water in the canal by the mark, at dark. During the previous 24 hours the river had risen three inches at the head of the falls, and eight inches at Portland. On the falls there were three and a half feet water in the pass. The weather was rainy yesterday morning, and quite cool, with the mercury down to 65 in the shade in the forenoon.

At Cincinnati, yesterday, the river had fallen an inch, with it reported falling at all points above, and we think it will commence receding here to-day, as it was at a stand in the evening.

The Atlantic and John Raine arrived, from New Orleans, early yesterday, reporting the river rising all the way to Paducah, with fully five feet water on all the shoalest bars. The river was falling fast, which would have the tendency to draw off the water from the Ohio quite fast, and make the present rise a short one.

The Atlantic has been laid up for the season—taken into summer quarters at Shippingport, after making a brilliant campaign, and winning a high name with both traveler and shippers all along the route. She has proven an unequalled business and passenger packet, and very popular, and has not made a single losing trip this season. That speaks volumes for her gallant officers, as well as for the admirable proportions and qualifications of the boat. She has run, this, her first season, through without damage, or delay, or any mishap whatever, excepting the prostration of her chimneys in the terrible tornado at New Orleans, making her first trip through almost solid masses of ice for over four hundred miles, when all other boats had to encumb, and her last trip over sand-bars, and extreme low water, coming into port in good time, and in first rate order. She is now laid up for the season, but she was so perfectly and completely built, and so well taken care of that she could be started out again to-morrow without a dollar's worth of repair, or an iota of change having to be made.

The Atlantic came out in November, making her first trip on the 27th, and has made thirteen and a half trips, traveling over 40 000 miles in seven and a half months.

☞The Bracelet has been laid up to await a more moderate stage of water. The river, just now, is rather too high for her success.

THE PILOTS' ASSOCIATION.—The members of the Pilots' Association are requested to meet at their hall, on Saturday, the 14th. A full attendance is expected as business of importance will be brought before the meeting.

Capt. Postalle's new boat, the Memphis, will probably be towed over the falls to-day, to Portland, by the Pink Varble. She is to be taken to St. Louis on the present rise, to have her machinery put on board. She receives the engines of the once famous Altoona.

☞The E. H. Fairchild, from New Orleans, was at Evansville yesterday, and telegraphed to arrive this morning at 10 o'clock. She will have dispatch for a return trip.

☞To our courteous friend Henry McDougal, clerk of the fast packet John Raine, from New Orleans, we are indebted for a river memorandum. The John Raine (and the rain) came at an early hour yesterday morning, full of passengers, a very fine trip. She is one of the best and most popular passenger packets in the trade, a fact well appreciated by Southern travelers, as she is always full.

The John Raine has deferred her departure to New Orleans till to-morrow (Saturday) evening. She starts from Portland, and passengers and shippers will find her unsurpassed in all good qualities.

☞Capt. Rees Pritchard, of the Arkansas river trade, arrived here yesterday, and joined the Captain's convention. He is building two boats for that river, the Chester Ashley and A. H. Sevier.

THE FRIDAY MAIL SOUTH.—The light, swift levee Eagle, Capt. Daniels, is the regular mail and passenger packet for Owensboro, Evansville, and Henderson this evening, starting from Portland, and taking the mail and passengers to every way landing. The clerk is our accommodating and attentive friend Sam. Halliday, who is universally popular along the route.

FOR MEMPHIS.—The Gen. Pike, having been detained, takes her departure to Cairo and Memphis this evening. She starts from Portland, in charge of Capt. J. M. Martin.

FOR CAIRO.—The light and bright packet John Gault, having been detained, takes her departure to Cairo this evening. She starts from the city wharf.

THE BAY CITY AFFAIR.—Mr. Williams, a survivor of the Ben Lewis disaster, publishes a terrible rejoinder to the late card of Capt. Miller, of the Bay City. It appeared in the St. Louis papers.

☞We copy the following from the St. Louis Democrat of yesterday:

The river continues falling steadily all the way from St. Paul to the mouth. The Missouri is also falling, but is expected to be in good condition for a few weeks yet. The Illinois has fallen over four feet, and is still falling, with five feet to Peoria, and thirty-six inches to La Salle.

Business is very dull, and weather pleasantly warm. Tonnage to New Orleans light. The Chouteau intended to lay up on arrival, but finding a load could be had, Capt. Williams began loading her yesterday. The Belfast is also loading, and freight is also being secured for the Bertrand.

Several Missouri river boats are all loading at once. Freights, however, are not at all plentiful for that or any other direction.

The Warsaw, having been repainted and put in very pretty condition, went alongside the Belfast yesterday and took off a load of freight.

The Memphis packet James H. Lucas has undergone repairs and repainting, and is now in proper and excellent condition. Capt. Zeigler, the indomitable, backs her out on Saturday.

The Chambers is now loading for the Missouri river. Capt. Bowman remains in command, and Mr. Chouteau has now charge of the office, Mr. Gilham having retired from the river.

The John Warner began to load yesterday for the Missouri river. She will have on this morning about or over 100,000 feet of lumber, brought down the Illinois river by the Little Martha.

The great event of the day upon the landing, was the arrival of the long absent Spread Eagle, the "flag ship" of the Mountain Fleet, which left here about the first of May for the Rocky Mountains. The Spread Eagle and Captain La Barge have the honor of having reached a point on the Missouri never before visited by a side-wheel boat. The Key West and Chippewa proceeded on to Fort Benton, and will not be here for some time yet.

LAKE ICE.—The mail boats daily bring large consignments of pure lake ice to this city, and within a few days three fat boat loads of it were received.

Yesterday Lou. Kriel, who deals in ice, sold 107 tons of pure lake ice, to Watts, Given & Co., of Nashville. It goes through by railroad, and was sold at $13 per ton.

DROWNED.—The Memphis papers of Tuesday, state that while the Lady Franklin was on her way down the Ohio, a Mrs. Coleman, who, with four little children, had taken passage at Cincinnati for Memphis, threw her youngest child into the river and jumped in after it. Both were drowned before they could be rescued. Mrs. Coleman was in pursuit of her husband, who some time since had deserted her.

☞The Cincinnati Gazette of yesterday has the following:

The W. I. Maclay arrived from Pittsburg last evening in a disabled condition. In coming over Glasshouse bar she struck a lump, breaking several of her timbers and cracking her larboard shaft, and when near Guyan her shaft broke. The Maclay will lay up here for repairs.

The Quapaw was sold yesterday to Capt. Andy Byers, for $15,000. the boat to be delivered next August. Capt. Byers will place the Quapaw in the Cincinnati and Arkansas trade, this fall.

Capt. Widdser has purchased one-fourth of the new Arkansas river packet Sevier, from Capt. J. D. Adams.

The Aurora and City of Madison are loading for New Orleans, and will leave this evening.

The Express Line steamer Lehigh leaves for St. Louis this evening, with a full load.

The Lebanon commences loading for St. Louis to-day, and is announced to leave on Saturday.

THE CAPTAIN'S UNION CONVENTION.—The convention met at the usual hour, yesterday morning, and received the report of the freight committee, which was adopted, but the rates are not made public. It is considered fair and satisfactory to all trades.

A motion was adopted in the convention that the acts of a majority shall rule, instead of the two-thirds rule heretofore adopted.

The convention took up the resolution in regard to passenger agents and advertising agents. The latter was rejected, and action on the former deferred.

The reference to the action of the convention yesterday in regard to agents was not called up at all by Southern delegates, but merely mentioned incidentally.

The report of the committee to devise ways and means to sustain the acts of the convention was adopted, and one thousand copies ordered to be printed.

Capt Brierly offered a resolution, which was adopted, that the Convention stand upon compromise ground, having no new issues, but devoted to the entire steamboat interest.

A form of stamps for bills of lading, recommended by committee, was adopted also a resolution from Capt. Marshall to devise a form of stamps for the use of cotton-carrying boats.

Captain Brierly stated that on consultation with Missouri river captains, he believed they would form an association similar to that of New Orleans.

On motion of Capt. Spotts, a resolution was adopted in favor of getting out a proper form of shipping papers for deck hands and firemen.

The Convention, previous to adjournment, voted a letter of thanks to the Jeffersonville Railroad Company, the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad Company, and the Cincinnati and Louisville Mail line, for tenders of free passage on their lines. They then adjourned to 9 o'clock this morning.

Commercial.

OFFICE LOUISVILLE COURIER,
THURSDAY EVENING, July 12th, 1860.

The Money market remains easy, with but a small demand for loans, which is ready to get. The supply of capital is in excess of the demand, and banks were ready to lend all good paper offering. The market for Exchange was firm, with an active demand for Eastern at ¼ premium.

Monday's New York Stock Exchange is thus reported in the Post:

Extraordinary buoyancy on the Stock Exchange is the prominent feature of the day. The speculative list is very active, and prices are again higher. The volume of business is fast assuming proportions which, in point of animation and elasticity, promise to exceed all the movements of the past three years, in the opening. The large advance attending the recoil from the panic of 1857.

The market closes steady, but quiet. Prices of the Western stocks remain firm. New York Central closes firmer at 85¾@86.

In the general markets, we have a continued dullness to note in Flour, with but a very small local demand for the family grades, while fine and superfine are exceedingly dull and heavy, with a strong disposition on the part of holders to sell, but buyers were unwilling to take hold, preferring to wait for a decline. There was nothing doing in Wheat to-day. But little new has yet arrived, and dealers refuse to take hold yet, and millers are only willing to buy in small lots for immediate delivery, outside of that they are refusing to make any offer. We quote prime to choice new at $1 10@1 15 for red and white. There was but little doing in Corn, and the market is unchanged. Oats are steady, with a fair inquiry at 47@49c. Whisky was steady at 17½.

The grocery market to-day, after the excitement of yesterday, was quiet, with but a small demand for sugar for home consumption. The market, however, was exceedingly firm, and in some quarters an advance was strongly spoken of. The transactions to-day were small at 8¼@8½. There was nothing doing in molasses, and we quote at 45@46c for barrels, and 45c for half barrels. The market for codfish is firm, with a fair demand, but owing to the light stock on hand, the sale was limited at 4¼, 2¼, 1½ for prime No.

The Provision market was exceedingly firm and buoyant. If any change was noticeable, it was an increased firmness on the part of holders. The demand for Mess Pork was small to fill orders, at $19. There was but little doing in Bacon, owing to the great difficulty experienced in shipping. Shoulders remain unchanged at 9@9½. Rib Sides could have been purchased at 11¾; Clear Rib Sides were sold at 12¾, but at the close they could not have been purchased for less than 12¾. In small lots, Clear Sides sold for 12¾, but at the close an advance was established, the market closing at 12¾. Hams were quiet at 12½@ for plain canvassed, and 13@ for engraved. There was nothing doing in Lard.

In regard to Provisions at Cincinnati, we take the following from the Gazette, of to-day:

Pork—Offerings continue to be held very firmly, and lots on the spot cannot be bought to any extent at previous quotations. Jobbing lots, only, are held steadily for Shoulders at 9@9½c. for sales, with 9¾c asked for Sides. About 500 bbls, chiefly in retail lots, sold at $19 and 19¼. We heard of more lots of Bacon. Shoulders are cleared at 9¼, but for Sides a shade more is asked. In the afternoon, however, after the news from New Orleans, there were indications of weakness. Nothing done in Pork—buyers and sellers are firm.

FLOUR AND GRAIN—Sales of 150 bbls Flour at $4@4 25. 25 bags sacked Corn at 60c, sacks included. 700 bushels Oats at 44@46.

BAGGING AND ROPE—Sales of 100 pieces Inman Hand Bagging at 15c, and 250 pieces at 14¾@14¾c; 50 pieces Hunts' Machine Bagging at 15¾@; 150 coils Hunts' Machine Rope at 7.

HAY—Sales of 70 bales, from store, at $15.

GROCERIES—Sales of 10 hhds Sugar at 8¼@8¾. 70 bbls Refined at 10¾@11¼. 25 bags Coffee at 14¾@.

PROVISIONS—Sales of 50 bbls of Mess Pork at $19, 31 casks Bacon at former rates.

TOBACCO—The sales at the warehouses, 7 for the day, amounted to 81 hhds, viz—7 at $4 and 85; 17 at $3@3 85; 18 at $2@3 65; 11 at $1@1 90; 10 at $@2 65; 7 at $@3 65; 11 at $@3 70; 3 at $@3 90; 3 at $@4 00; 30 at $@4 20.

NEW YORK, July 12.—The North Star brings only one day later news from California and upwards of $1,000,000 in treasure.

Oregon advices indicate the election of a Democratic Congressman by 75 majority. The Legislature is conceded to the coalition by 8 to 10 majority on joint ballot.

The heavy failure of Brewster & Co. produced a sensation in San Francisco. It is believed that their assets will pay all indebtedness, amounting to $500,000. Much anxiety exists in anticipation of other failures, but well informed merchants believe all the principal houses sound.—Brewster & Co., have already confessed judgment for $100,000.

Baymard & Co., engaged in the grain business, have also failed; liabilities $250,000.

Business dull. Money abundant at unchanged rates. Sue brought no Panama papers. She left at Aspinwall, on the 4th, the frigate Sabine and steamship Falmouth.
